DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terms metallation and reduction in claim 1 are redundant.

It is unclear how the structure R1P in claim 2 is a cyclic phosphane.

It is unclear how the diphosphanes or polyphosphanes of claim 11 conform to the structure of formula I in claim 1.

It is unclear in claim 13 how acylphosphane oxides are prepared from reacting acylphosphanes with sulfur.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1621

Claims 1, 2, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Veits et al., Russian Journal of General Chemistry (Translation of Zhurnal Obshchei Khimii) (2000), 70(8), 1237-1239 (Veits).

Veits teaches the following reaction:

RX(11) OF 15 - 3 STEPS

REF: Russian Journal of General Chemistry (Translation of Zhurnal Obshchei Khimii), 70(8), 1237-1239; 2000 see presence of Li (BuLi) and proton source LiAlH₄.

See attached CAS online citation 134:295892 [retrieved 10 September 2007] from STN; Columbus, OH, USA.

Veits fails to explicitly teach the presence of solvents or intermediates. However, the use of solvent and diluents is commonplace for the purposes thermodynamics and the presence of intermediates is presumed since Veits substantially teaches the same reaction as that claimed. Therefore, the use of solvents and the presence of intermediates is prima facie obvious.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-8 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of copending Application No. 11/795059.

Claims 1-19 are also provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-16 of copending Application No. 11/667780.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the conflicting claims also recite the steps of reacting phosphorous halides with acid halides to produce products conforming to formula (I) of the instant claims. Therefore, the instant claims render the instant claims prima facie obvious.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
